

Carole Baskin <carole.baskin@bigcatrescue.org>

---

Fwd: Metro Monitor News Tracker Report

---

Susan Bass <susan.bass@bigcatrescue.org>

Fri, Feb 24, 2017 at 4:37 PM

To: Howard Baskin <howard.baskin@bigcatrescue.org>, Carole Baskin <carole.baskin@bigcatrescue.org>

You may recall that a while back I told you for $75 we can obtain a monthly report listing all of our media hits. Below is January because Brad forgot to send it and I realized it yesterday. Over 500 hits, although a few are from Pinterest. Nice to see that several hundred Patch websites all around the country did a piece on why tigers should never be pets.

----- Forwarded message -----

From: Brad Hendrix <bhendrix@metromonitor.com>

Date: Fri, Feb 24, 2017 at 11:35 AM

Subject: Metro Monitor News Tracker Report

To: Susan Bass <Susan.Bass@bigcatrescue.org>

To order permanent TV or radio clips call 800-861-5255
TV, radio, online and social media monitoring services. Visit www.metromonitor.com

Metro Monitor News Tracker Report

1. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type Can you help the cat

Jan 28 2017 02:26AM UTC

Can you help the cats get 215 votes this evening? There are only about 215 Valspar votes left that count to the $1 per vote. Will each of you ask just one friend to go to VoteCats.com and select BIG CAT RESCUE?

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

2. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type A day of learning at

Jan 26 2017 03:20AM UTC

A day of learning at BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa,Florida- www.casualtraveli.com.

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

3. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type WOW, Great Job, Ever

Jan 25 2017 02:30AM UTC

Let's keep the momentum going!THANK YOU!YOUR votes for BIG CAT RESCUE and YOUR shares are Making A Difference at BigCatRescue.org/contest

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

4. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type Valspar CONTEST UPDA

Jan 23 2017 07:39PM UTC

Valspar CONTEST UPDATE: As of 10:45 am today the cats have 2,420 votes. Can You help the cats get another 500 votes today by sharing this photo with your friends and family and asking them to go to VoteCats.com to vote for BIG CAT RESCUE?

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

5. Medi Arkansas Democrat Gazette Newspaper Market: Little Rock-Pine Bluff, AR (57)
Type Animals in limbo is circus's closing act

Jan 22 2017 09:30AM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure will generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokesman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Fla., said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as a tiger named Hoover that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 266,304

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $632

Calc Publicity Value: $1,896
Rank: 34,600

Average Stay: 128.55
Page Views: 3,951,686

Attention: 0.0006

6. Medi Arkansas Democrat Gazette Newspaper Market: Little Rock-Pine Bluff, AR (57)
Type Animals in limbo is circus's closing act

Jan 22 2017 09:30AM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure will generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokesman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Fla., said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as a tiger named Hoover that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 266,304
Calc Publicity Value: $1,896
Rank: 34,600

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 128.55
Page Views: 3,951,686

Estimated Ad Value: $632
Attention: 0.0006

7. Medi Benton County Daily Record Newspaper Market: Ft. Smith-Fayetteville-Springdale-Rogers, AR (99)
Type Animals in limbo is circus's closing act

Jan 22 2017 09:30AM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure will generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokesman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Fla., said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as a tiger named Hoover that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 53,052
Calc Publicity Value: $678
Rank: 201,978

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 339.96
Page Views: 511,376

Estimated Ad Value: $226
Attention: 0.0001

8. Medi Messenger Inquirer Newspaper Market: Evansville, IN (103)

Type One problem with Ringling Bros. shutting down the circus: Where will the animals

Jan 22 2017 06:00AM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said. "As far as we know, he'd never been able to roll around on the grass or have access to a body of water to play in," Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 11,750
Calc Publicity Value: $747

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 252.60

Estimated Ad Value: $249
Attention: 0.0001

Rank: 217,657

Page Views: 620,914

9. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type Dave Welling - Close

Jan 21 2017 09:40PM UTC

Dave Welling - Close-up of an ocelot cub on log at BIG CAT RESCUE (ocelots are my absolute favorite animal EVER)

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

10. Medi St. Louis Post Dispatch Newspaper Market: St. Louis, MO (21)
Type The wilder side of South Florida

Jan 20 2017 05:15PM CT

Numerous cigar factories flourished here, with the worlds largest, Ybor Cigar Factory, employing more than 4,000 men and women who hand-rolled some 900,000 cigars a month. The Great Depression and machine rollers ended the boom, though cigars are still made here, he said. Another day we visited BIG CAT RESCUE, a sanctuary for abused or abandoned large cats. Susan Bass led us on a tour of the facility (visitors go with a guide)Currently, 80 tigers, bobcats, leopards and others live at the 70-acre site.

itrekkers.com ($50 for two people) La Segunda Bakery: 1-813-248-1531; lasegundabakery.com Ybor City tours: 1-813-428-0854; yborcityonline.com ($20 for adults, $10 ages 6-12) BIG CAT RESCUE: 1-813-920-4130; bigcatrescue.org (guided tours $36 adults, $19 ages 10 and under) Canoe Escape: 1-813-986-2067; canoescape.com For Fort Myers/Sanibel info: FortMyersSanibel.com Red Coconut RV Park: 1-239-463-7200;

View

Unique Visitors: 1,471,707
Calc Publicity Value: $4,500
Rank: 7,015

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 286.77
Page Views: 23,013,674

Estimated Ad Value: $1,500
Attention: 0.0052

11. Medi The Bend Bulletin \(Bend, Central Oregon\) Newspaper Market: Bend, OR (188)
Type Homes sought for animals as circus ends

Jan 20 2017 09:43AM PT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say theyre eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Florida, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 150,942
Calc Publicity Value: $1,395
Rank: 65,526

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 354.34
Page Views: 2,139,632

Estimated Ad Value: $465
Attention: 0.0002

12. Medi Lakeland Ledger Newspaper Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type Rehabilitated bobcat finds new home in Polk's Tiger Creek Preserve

Jan 19 2017 01:24AM ET

BIG CAT RESCUES bobcat rehabilitation team treated Spirit Feather for fleas and hookworms, and taught her to hunt. Gary White @garywhite13 BABSON PARK It took a few seconds for the young bobcat to realize it was free. In a video showing the recent release of the rehabilitated animal at Tiger Creek Preserve, the bobcat hesitates a few seconds after the door to its crate is lifted. The feline, nicknamed Spirit Feather, then darts out of the box and bounds into a patch of palmettos. The Nature Conservancy Florida, which owns and manages the preserve in Babson Park, collaborated with BIG CAT RESCUE to release the bobcat Jan. 8. It had been found in a road near Orlando last July as a 2-pound kitten and rehabilitated at BIG CAT RESCUE, a sanctuary in Hillsborough County. BIG CAT RESCUES bobcat rehabilitation team treated Spirit Feather for fleas and hookworms, and taught her to hunt, said Fran Perchick, a spokeswoman for The Nature Conservancy. A group of staffers and volunteers from BIG CAT RESCUE and The Nature Conservancy gathered for the recent release at Tiger Creek, an approximately 5,000-acre property containing a variety of ecosystems. "The habitat is perfect," said Zachary Prusak, Central Florida Conservation program manager for The Nature Conservancy. "It's incredibly well manged so it can sustain healthy populations of plants and animals. So thats why that location was chosen." Endemic to Florida, adult bobcats are about twice as large as domestic cats. They are sometimes mistaken for the Florida panther, an endangered species that is much larger. Bobcats, not listed as threatened or endangered, thrive throughout the state in forests, swamps and hardwood hammocks. They make dens in patches of saw palmetto and dense shrub. Spirit Feather has grown up to become a strong, feisty bobcat equipped with the skills to return to the wild where she belongs, Jamie Veronica, president of BIG CAT RESCUE, said in a news release. We are very happy that she will be released on a vast, protected property and find everything she needs there to thrive. It was the second time The Nature Conservancy and BIG CAT RESCUE have teamed up for the release of a rehabilitated animal, Prusak said. BIG CAT RESCUE released two bobcats last year at Venus Flatwoods Preserve in Highlands County. Gary White can be reached at gary.white@theledger.com or 863-802-7518. He blogs about tourism at <http://tourism.blogs.theledger.com>.

View

Unique Visitors: 160,536
 Calc Publicity Value: $1,350
 Rank: 63,642

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 123.41
 Page Views: 2,000,869

Estimated Ad Value: $450
 Attention: 0.0003

13. Medi WTVT-FOX Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
 Type GOOD DAY TAMPA AT 6 AM

Jan 19 2017 06:00AM ET

[6:26:07 AM] Jennifer: it's cool. This is like what's the place in the the citrus park area? Russell: BIG CAT RESCUE? Jennifer: yeah. This lion is not Joseph but he's getting celebrity status thanks to his incredible roar.

View

Nielsen Audience: 70,658
 Calc Publicity Value: $935

Ad Value: $550

Calc Ad Value: $312

14. Medi News Chief Newspaper Market: Orlando-Daytona Beach-Melbourne, FL (18)
 Type Rehabilitated bobcat finds new home in Polk's Tiger Creek Preserve

Jan 19 2017 01:24AM ET

BIG CAT RESCUES bobcat rehabilitation team treated Spirit Feather for fleas and hookworms, and taught her to hunt. Gary White @garywhite13 BABSON PARK It took a few seconds for the young bobcat to realize it was free. In a video showing the recent release of the rehabilitated animal at Tiger Creek Preserve, the bobcat hesitates a few seconds after the door to its crate is lifted. The feline, nicknamed Spirit Feather, then darts out of the box and bounds into a patch of palmettos. The Nature Conservancy Florida, which owns and manages the preserve in Babson Park, collaborated with BIG CAT RESCUE to release the bobcat Jan. 8. It had been found in a road near Orlando last July as a 2-pound kitten and rehabilitated at BIG CAT RESCUE, a sanctuary in Hillsborough County. BIG CAT RESCUES bobcat rehabilitation team treated Spirit Feather for fleas and hookworms, and taught her to hunt, said Fran Perchick, a spokeswoman for The Nature Conservancy. A group of staffers and volunteers from BIG CAT RESCUE and The Nature Conservancy gathered for the recent release at Tiger Creek, an approximately 5,000-acre property containing a variety of ecosystems. "The habitat is perfect," said Zachary Prusak, Central Florida Conservation program manager for The Nature Conservancy. "It's incredibly well manged so it can sustain healthy populations of plants and animals. So thats why that location was chosen." Endemic to Florida, adult bobcats are about twice as large as domestic cats. They are sometimes mistaken for the Florida panther, an endangered species that is much larger. Bobcats, not listed as threatened or endangered, thrive throughout the state in forests, swamps and hardwood hammocks. They make dens in patches of saw palmetto and dense shrub. Spirit Feather has grown up to become a strong, feisty bobcat equipped with the skills to return to the wild where she belongs, Jamie Veronica, president of BIG CAT RESCUE, said in a news release. We are very happy that she will be released on a vast, protected property and find everything she needs there to thrive. It was the second time The Nature Conservancy and BIG CAT RESCUE have teamed up for the release of a rehabilitated animal, Prusak said. BIG CAT RESCUE released two bobcats last year at Venus Flatwoods Preserve in Highlands County. Gary White can be reached at gary.white@theledger.com or 863-802-7518. He blogs about tourism at <http://tourism.blogs.theledger.com>.

View

Unique Visitors: 15,080
Calc Publicity Value: $561
Rank: 332,870

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 76.80
Page Views: 354,242

Estimated Ad Value: $187
Attention: 0.0000

15. Medi Hilltop Times \(Hill Air Force Base\) Newspaper Market: Salt Lake City, UT (34)

Type One problem with shutting down the circus: Where will the animals go?

Jan 19 2017 06:31PM MT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 135,528
Calc Publicity Value: $1,065
Rank: 82,643

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 128.65
Page Views: 1,244,933

Estimated Ad Value: $355
Attention: 0.0004

16. Medi AL.com - Birmingham News Newspaper Market: Birmingham-Anniston-Tuscaloosa, AL (45)

Type Where will circus animals go when Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey closes?

Jan 19 2017 06:28PM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said. "As far as we know, he'd never been able to roll around on the grass or have access to a body of water to play in," Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 2,374,539
Calc Publicity Value: $6,030
Rank: 3,752

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 164.80
Page Views: 42,337,577

Estimated Ad Value: $2,010
Attention: 0.0059

17. Medi Birmingham News Online Only Market: Birmingham-Anniston-Tuscaloosa, AL (45)

Type Where will circus animals go when Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey closes?

Jan 19 2017 06:23PM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 38
Calc Publicity Value: $9
Rank: 28,719,487

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 0.00
Page Views: 138

Estimated Ad Value: $3
Attention: 0.0000

18. Medi The Albuquerque Journal Newspaper Market: Albuquerque-Santa Fe, NM (48)
Type One problem with shutting down the circus: Where will the animals go?

Jan 19 2017 05:51PM MT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 326,916
Calc Publicity Value: $1,698
Rank: 38,378

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 149.82
Page Views: 3,169,117

Estimated Ad Value: $566
Attention: 0.0008

19. Medi New Orleans Advocate Newspaper Market: New Orleans, LA (50)

Type How does keeping Mike the Tiger away from football games affect LSU's chances of Jan 19 2017 07:08PM CT

Debbie Leahy, manager of captive wildlife protection for the Humane Society of the United States, said showing off Mike during home games was a major concern of her agency. She said that kind of activity causes unnecessary stress for tigers. "Taking them into an arena of screaming fans and exposing a big cat to all of that chaos is just cruel, in my opinion," said Carole Baskin, the founder CEO of BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Florida. "I'm very glad they're not doing that. I think it still sends the wrong message to keep a cat in a glass case just to say you have one, but it's a whole lot better than what they had." But Jeff Dorsen, the executive director of the Humane Society of Louisiana, said the changes do not address his underlying.

View

Unique Visitors: 472,511
Calc Publicity Value: $2,679
Rank: 18,500

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 342.55
Page Views: 7,944,072

Estimated Ad Value: $893
Attention: 0.0013

20. Medi New Orleans Advocate Newspaper Market: New Orleans, LA (50)

Type With Mike VII, here's how LSU could potentially become an accredited tiger sanct Jan 19 2017 07:08PM CT

Debbie Leahy, manager of captive wildlife protection for the Humane Society of the United States, said showing off Mike during home games was a major concern of her agency. She said that kind of activity causes unnecessary stress for tigers. "Taking them into an arena of screaming fans and exposing a big cat to all of that chaos is just cruel, in my opinion," said Carole Baskin, the founder CEO of BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Florida. "I'm very glad they're not doing that. I think it still sends the wrong message to keep a cat in a glass case just to say you have one, but it's a whole lot better than what they had." But Jeff Dorsen, the executive director of the Humane Society of Louisiana, said the changes do not address his underlying.

View

Unique Visitors: 472,511
Calc Publicity Value: $2,679
Rank: 18,500

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 342.55
Page Views: 7,944,072

Estimated Ad Value: $893
Attention: 0.0013

21. Medi New Orleans Advocate Newspaper Market: New Orleans, LA (50)
Type With Mike VII, here's how LSU could potentially become an accredited tiger sanct Jan 19 2017 07:08PM CT

Debbie Leahy, manager of captive wildlife protection for the Humane Society of the United States, said showing off Mike during home games was a major concern of her agency. She said that kind of activity causes unnecessary stress for tigers. "Taking them into an arena of screaming fans and exposing a big cat to all of that chaos is just cruel, in my opinion," said Carole Baskin, the founder CEO of BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, Florida. "I'm very glad they're not doing that. I think it still sends the wrong message to keep a cat in a glass case just to say you have one, but it's a whole lot better than what they had." But Jeff Dorsen, the executive director of the Humane Society of Louisiana, said the changes do not address his underlying.

View

Unique Visitors: 472,511
Calc Publicity Value: $2,679
Rank: 18,500

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 342.55
Page Views: 7,944,072

Estimated Ad Value: $893
Attention: 0.0013

22. Medi The Daily Republic Online Only Market: Sioux Falls-Mitchell, SD (109)
Type One problem with shutting down the circus: Where will the animals go? Jan 19 2017 07:56PM CT

Advocates say they are hopeful the Ringling closure might generate momentum for two federal bills, which the company opposed, to ban private ownership and breeding of big cats as well as the use of wild animals in circuses and traveling shows. In the meantime, representatives of accredited sanctuaries say they're eager to help find homes for the Ringling animals. Susan Bass, the spokeswoman for BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, said its founder had offered assistance in an email to chief executive Kenneth Feld. The sanctuary would be able to add some of the tigers to its population of 80 cats big and small, Bass said. Among the BIG CAT RESCUE animals are five tigers from Serenity Springs, as well as Hoover, a recently arrived tiger that had spent his life traveling Peru in a circus wagon. That country banned performing exotic animals in 2011, after steady campaigning by the group Animal Defenders International. Feeding and caring for each tiger costs the sanctuary about $10,000 a year, Bass said.

View

Unique Visitors: 18,587
Calc Publicity Value: $561
Rank: 268,203

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 120.52
Page Views: 353,408

Estimated Ad Value: $187
Attention: 0.0001

23. Medi WKMG-CBS Television Market: Orlando-Daytona Beach-Melbourne, FL (18)
Type NEWS AT 5 PM Jan 18 2017 05:00PM ET

[5:47:45 PM] Take a look. Meet spirit feather. She was named by the BIG CAT RESCUE group. They took her in after good samaritans found her in July, stranded in the middle of the road in Orlando. She was only 2 pounds at the time.

View

Nielsen Audience: 38,399
Calc Publicity Value: $910

Ad Value: $650

Calc Ad Value: $303

24. Medi WKMG-TV [CBS 6] Television Market: Orlando-Daytona Beach-Melbourne, FL (18)
Type Rescue group releases bobcat kitten found on Orlando street Jan 18 2017 09:49PM ET

Nearly six months after a tiny bobcat kitten was rescued from the side of the road near Orlando, the animal is fully rehabilitated and back in the wild. Good Samaritans found the 2-pound kitten in July and brought it to a local clinic. According to specialist, workers with BIG CAT RESCUE named the furry feline Spirit Feather and quickly treated her for hookworms and fleas. Over the course of several months, they were able to teach the bobcat how to hunt on her own and decided she was ready for her new home. Spirit Feather has grown up to become a strong, feisty bobcat, equipped with the skills to return to the wild, where she belongs, Jamie Veronica, president of BIG CAT RESCUE, wrote in a press release sent to News 6 Wednesday. They decided to release Spirit Feather Sunday to The Tiger Creek Preserve in Polk County. The preserve is managed by the Nature Conservancy and spans across thousands of acres.

View

Unique Visitors: 572,692
Calc Publicity Value: $1,800
Rank: 30,811

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 83.63
Page Views: 3,556,256

Estimated Ad Value: $600
Attention: 0.0005

25. Medi WPBF-ABC Television Market: West Palm Beach-Ft. Pierce, FL (38)
Type News at 5 PM

Jan 18 2017 05:00PM ET

[5:42:19 PM] The bobcat was found in the middle of the road and rescued. It was released on January 8. Thanks to BIG CAT RESCUE the bobcat was rehabiliated and taught to hunt food on its own. Meet the brand-new head coach ready to build a new program from scratch. You are watching wpbf we're told to live large, but with princess cruises your most extraordinary moments happen when you feel small.

View

Nielsen Audience: 40,120
Calc Publicity Value: $620

Ad Value: $200

Calc Ad Value: $207

26. Medi WTSP-CBS Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type 10 NEWS AT 5 AM

Jan 17 2017 05:00AM ET

[5:36:33 AM] BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa is one of the world's largest accredited sanctuaries for exotic cats. They are home to all types of big cats that have been abandoned, abused or retired from performing acts. They've already reached out to feld entertainmentthe parent company of the ringling barnum and Bailey circus they also say they've previously worked with some of the circus's retired catsand would love to take some of them in, then help find the others homes with accredited sanctuaries BIG CAT RESCUEHAS over 60 big. Cats, from lions to tigers and bobcats, but each cat can cost around ten thousand dollars a year. They rely solely on donations and if you'd lke to help, visit this story on are website wtsp dot com.

View

Nielsen Audience: 9,638
Calc Publicity Value: $700

Ad Value: $175

Calc Ad Value: $233

27. Medi WTSP-CBS Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type 10 NEWS AT 11 PM

Jan 16 2017 11:00PM ET

[11:09:54 PM] Reporter: while feld entertainment hasn't that exactly where the animals will be placed, one organization in Tampa says we have a place they can call home. This is one of the tigers a BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa, one of the world's largest accredited sanctuaries for exotic cats who have been abandoned, abused, or are retired from performance acts. We have reached out to the feld family and told them we have recently taken in their previous cats and we would love to work with them to find credited homes homes and accredited sanctuaries. Reporter: they hope feld entertainment will take the offer seriously so they go from the greatest show to the greatest home. What would you say is your biggest fear about where these animals may end up? I think everybody in the animal community is concerned they will be sold to other circuses. Reporter: Jennifer titus, 10 news. The BIG CAT RESCUE runs completely on donations and one cat a year can cost about $10,000. If you'd like to donate to the organization, visit the story on our website for a link.

View

Nielsen Audience: 59,832

Ad Value: $1,600

Calc Ad Value: $3,307

Calc Publicity Value: $9,920

28. Medi WJBK-FOX Television Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type FOX 2 News 6AM

Jan 16 2017 06:00AM ET

[6:19:43 AM] We did not see this coming. Animal welfare groups are celebrating the news. BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa has helped rehome numerous former circuit cats. We have reached out to take in some of the cats. Just last year, ringling retired their elephants.

View

Nielsen Audience: 66,053
Calc Publicity Value: $1,254

Ad Value: $660

Calc Ad Value: $418

29. Medi WOFL-FOX Television Market: Orlando-Daytona Beach-Melbourne, FL (18)
Type GOOD DAY AT 7 AM

Jan 16 2017 07:00AM ET

[7:54:33 AM] Reporter: the end of the circus has everyone asking, where could they find a home for the animals. BIG CAT RESCUE could be a place. They have volunteered to give some of the circus animals a new home as well. Ringling has not commented on whether the cats will retire at BIG CAT RESCUE or sold to another circus. 57% of people are disappointed that they will no longer be the traveling circus. Bob: thank you.

View

Nielsen Audience: 10,661
Calc Publicity Value: $1,600

Ad Value: $400

Calc Ad Value: $533

30. Medi WOGX-FOX Television Market: Gainesville, FL (161)
Type Good Day Orlando at 7 AM

Jan 16 2017 07:00AM ET

[7:54:30 AM] Reporter: the end of the circus has everyone asking, where could they find a home for the animals. BIG CAT RESCUE could be a place. They have volunteered to give some of the circus animals a new home as well. Ringling has not commented on whether the cats will retire at BIG CAT RESCUE or sold to another circus. 57% of people are disappointed that they will no longer be the traveling circus. Bob: thank you.

View

Nielsen Audience: 1,649
Calc Publicity Value: $39

Ad Value: $10

Calc Ad Value: $13

31. Medi WOFL-FOX Television Market: Orlando-Daytona Beach-Melbourne, FL (18)
Type FOX 35 NEWS AT 10 PM

Jan 15 2017 10:00PM ET

[10:32:19 PM] The end of the circus has people asking, where do animals go next? Tom: many could find a home in Tampa at a sanctuary called BIG CAT RESCUE.

View

[10:32:31 PM] They house felines that have been saved from various situations across the world. Already they've volunteered to give some of the circus animals a new home. The circus has not yet commented on whether or not their cats will retire at BIG CAT RESCUE or if they will be sold to another circus. Brooks: hope you had a good Sunday. Day two of the three-day weekend for a lot of people.

View

Nielsen Audience: 20,730
Calc Publicity Value: $6,300

Ad Value: $1,800

Calc Ad Value: $2,100

32. Medi WOGX-FOX Television Market: Gainesville, FL (161)
Type FOX 51 News at 10 PM

Jan 15 2017 10:00PM ET

[10:32:19 PM] They held signs celebrating the ending of the barnum & Bailey circus. The end of the circus has people asking, where do animals go next? Tom: many could find a home in Tampa at a sanctuary called BIG CAT RESCUE. They house felines that have been saved from various situations across the world. Already they've volunteered to give some of the circus animals a new home. The circus has not yet commented on whether or not their cats will retire at BIG CAT RESCUE or if they will be sold to another circus. Brooks: hope you had a good Sunday. Day two of the three-day weekend for a lot of people.

View

Nielsen Audience: 4,903
Calc Publicity Value: $120

Ad Value: $30

Calc Ad Value: $40

33. Medi Bed-Stuy Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:37PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

34. Medi East Brunswick Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 03:12PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

35. Medi East Hampton Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:17PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

36. Medi Five Towns Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:43PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

37. Medi Fort Lee Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:31PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

38. Medi Freehold Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:41PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

39. Medi Glen Cove Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

40. Medi Braintree Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:34PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

41. Medi East Greenwich Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:32PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

42. Medi Coventry Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:47PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

43. Medi Johnston Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 13 2017 02:37PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

44. Medi Brick Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

45. Medi Bridgewater Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

46. Medi Bronxville-Eastchester Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

47. Medi Caldwell's Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

48. Medi Carroll Gardens Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

49. Medi Chappaqua-Mount Kisco Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

50. Medi Clark Garwood Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

51. Medi Commack Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

52. Medi Cranford Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

53. Medi East Meadow Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

54. Medi Farmingdale Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

55. Medi Garden City Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

56. Medi Greenwich Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

57. Medi Harrison Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

58. Medi Hasbrouck Heights Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

59. Medi Hauppauge Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

60. Medi Hillsborough Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

61. Medi Howell Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

62. Medi Huntington Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

63. Medi Jefferson Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

64. Medi Kings Park Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

65. Medi Larchmont-Mamaroneck Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

66. Medi Little Silver-Oceanport Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

67. Medi Long Branch Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

68. Medi Long Valley Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

69. Medi Madison Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

70. Medi Mahwah Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

71. Medi Manalapan Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

72. Medi Massapequa Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

73. Medi Millburn-Short Hills Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

74. Medi Miller Place-Rocky Point Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

75. Medi Mineola Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

76. Medi Montville Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

77. Medi Morris Township-Morris Plains Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

78. Medi Nanuet Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

79. Medi New City Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

80. Medi New Hyde Park Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

81. Medi New Rochelle Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

82. Medi North Fork Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

83. Medi Northport Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

84. Medi Nyack-Piermont Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

85. Medi Ocean City Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

86. Medi Type Park Slope Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

87. Medi Type Patchogue Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

88. Medi Type Pearl River Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

89. Medi Pelham Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

90. Medi Plainview Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

91. Medi Pleasantville-Briarcliff Manor Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

92. Medi Point Pleasant Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

93. Medi Port Chester Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

94. Medi Port Jefferson Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

95. Medi Port Washington Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

96. Medi Red Bank-Shrewsbury Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

97. Medi Ridgewood Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

98. Medi River Dell Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

99. Medi Riverhead Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

100. Medi Rivertowns Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

101. Medi Rockville Centre Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

102. Medi Rumson-Fair Haven Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

103. Medi Rockville Centre Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

104. Medi Rumson-Fair Haven Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

105. Medi Rye Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

106. Medi Sachem Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

107. Medi Sayville Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

108. Medi Scotch Plains-Fanwood Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

109. Medi Smithtown Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

110. Medi Southampton Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

111. Medi Springfield Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

112. Medi Stamford Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

113. Medi Summit Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

114. Medi Syosset Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

115. Medi Three Village Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

116. Medi Wall Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

117. Medi Wantagh-Seaford Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

118. Medi Wayne Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

119. Medi West Islip Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

120. Medi Westfield Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

121. Medi Woodbridge Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

122. Medi Wyckoff Patch Online Only Market: New York, NY (1)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

123. Medi Aliso Viejo Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

124. Medi Arcadia Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

125. Medi Fountain Valley Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

126. Medi Glendora Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

127. Medi Laguna Beach Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

128. Medi Lake Elsinore-Wildomar Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

129. Medi Los Alamitos-Seal Beach Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

130. Medi Mission Viejo Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

131. Medi Moorpark Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

132. Medi Murrieta Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

133. Medi Newport Beach Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

134. Medi Palm Desert Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

135. Medi San Clemente Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

136. Medi San Juan Capistrano Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

137. Medi Sierra Madre Patch Online Only Market: Los Angeles, CA (2)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

138. Medi Barrington Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

139. Medi Basking Ridge Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

140. Medi Batavia Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

141. Medi Buffalo Grove Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

142. Medi Chicago Heights Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

143. Medi Crystal Lake Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

144. Medi Deerfield Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

145. Medi Downers Grove Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

146. Medi Elmhurst Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

147. Medi Evanston Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

148. Medi Evergreen Park Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

149. Medi Frankfort Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

150. Medi Glen Ellyn Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

151. Medi Glenview Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

152. Medi Highland Park Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

153. Medi Hinsdale-Clarendon Hills Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

154. Medi Homewood-Flossmoor Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

155. Medi Huntley Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351	CPM: $11.38	Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820	Average Stay: 90.46	Attention: 0.0132
Rank: 2,817	Page Views: 39,310,374

156. Medi La Grange Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351	CPM: $11.38	Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820	Average Stay: 90.46	Attention: 0.0132
Rank: 2,817	Page Views: 39,310,374

157. Medi Lake Forest-Lake Bluff Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351	CPM: $11.38	Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820	Average Stay: 90.46	Attention: 0.0132
Rank: 2,817	Page Views: 39,310,374

158. Medi Lemont Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

159. Medi Lisle Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

160. Medi Mokena Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

161. Medi New Lenox Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

162. Medi Niles Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

163. Medi Northbrook Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

164. Medi Oak Forest Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

165. Medi Oak Lawn Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

166. Medi Orland Park Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

167. Medi Oswego Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

168. Medi Palos Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

169. Medi Park Ridge Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

170. Medi Romeoville Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

171. Medi Skokie Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

172. Medi Tinley Park Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

173. Medi Wilmette-Kenilworth Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

174. Medi Winnetka-Glencoe Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

175. Medi Woodridge Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

176. Medi Yorkville Patch Online Only Market: Chicago, IL (3)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

177. Medi Abington Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

178. Medi Bensalem Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

179. Medi Cinnaminson Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

180. Medi Collingswood Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

181. Medi Doylestown Buckingham New Britain Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

182. Medi Emmaus Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

183. Medi Gloucester Township Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

184. Medi Hatboro-Horsham Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

185. Medi Haverford-Havertown Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

186. Medi Lawrenceville Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

187. Medi Levittown Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

188. Medi Limerick-Royersford-Spring City Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

189. Medi Lower Macungie Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

190. Medi Marple Newtown Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

191. Medi Montgomeryville-Lansdale Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

192. Medi Moorestown Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

193. Medi Norristown Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

194. Medi Phoenixville Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

195. Medi Roxborough-Manayunk Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

196. Medi Upper Dublin Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

197. Medi Warminster Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

198. Medi West Chester Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

199. Medi West Deptford Patch Online Only Market: Philadelphia, PA (4)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

200. Medi Alameda Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

201. Medi Albany Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

202. Medi Burlingame Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

203. Medi Castro Valley Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

204. Medi Danville Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

205. Medi Castro Valley Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

206. Medi Danville Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

207. Medi Dublin Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

208. Medi El Cerrito Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

209. Medi Foster City Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

210. Medi Gilroy Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

211. Medi Half Moon Bay Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

212. Medi Healdsburg Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

213. Medi Lamorinda Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

214. Medi Los Altos Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

215. Medi Los Gatos Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

216. Medi Martinez Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

217. Medi Mill Valley Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

218. Medi Millbrae Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

219. Medi Milpitas Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

220. Medi Mountain View Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

221. Medi Newark Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

222. Medi Novato Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

223. Medi Pacifica Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

224. Medi Palo Alto Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

225. Medi Petaluma Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

226. Medi Piedmont Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

227. Medi Pinole Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

228. Medi Pleasanton Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

229. Medi San Anselmo-Fairfax Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

230. Medi San Leandro Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

231. Medi San Rafael Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

232. Medi Santa Cruz Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

233. Medi Scotts Valley Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

234. Medi South San Francisco Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

235. Medi Union City Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

236. Medi Walnut Creek Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

237. Medi Watsonville Patch Online Only Market: San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, CA (6)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

238. Medi Annandale Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

239. Medi Ashburn Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

240. Medi Bowie Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

241. Medi Burke Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

242. Medi Centreville Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

243. Medi Chantilly Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

244. Medi Clarendon Courthouse Rosslyn Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

245. Medi Dale City Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

246. Medi Fairfax City Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

247. Medi Georgetown Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

248. Medi Herndon Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

249. Medi Kingstowne Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

250. Medi Lake Ridge-Occoquan Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

251. Medi Leesburg Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

252. Medi Manassas Park Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

253. Medi Manassas Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

254. Medi McLean Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

255. Medi Mount Vernon Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

256. Medi Oakton Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

257. Medi Reston Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

258. Medi Vienna Patch Online Only Market: Washington, DC-Hagerstown, MD (7)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

259. Medi Acton Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

260. Medi Andover Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

261. Medi Arlington Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

262. Medi Back Bay Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

263. Medi Belmont Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

264. Medi Burlington Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

265. Medi Canton Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

266. Medi Charlestown Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

267. Medi Chelmsford Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

268. Medi Concord Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

269. Medi Dedham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

270. Medi Foxborough Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

271. Medi Framingham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

272. Medi Lexington Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

273. Medi Malden Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

274. Medi Marblehead Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

275. Medi Marlborough Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

276. Medi Medfield Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

277. Medi Medford Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

278. Medi Milton Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

279. Medi Natick Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

280. Medi Needham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

281. Medi Newton Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

282. Medi North Andover Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

283. Medi North Reading Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

284. Medi Norwood Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

285. Medi Reading Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

286. Medi Salem Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

287. Medi Sharon Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

288. Medi Somerville Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

289. Medi South End Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

290. Medi Stoughton Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

291. Medi Sudbury Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

292. Medi Swampscott Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

293. Medi Tewksbury Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

294. Medi Wakefield Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

295. Medi Waltham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

296. Medi Watertown Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

297. Medi Wayland Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

298. Medi Wellesley Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

299. Medi West Roxbury Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

300. Medi Westborough Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

301. Medi Weston Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

302. Medi Westwood Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

303. Medi Wilmington Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

304. Medi Winchester Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

305. Medi Woburn Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

306. Medi Wrentham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

307. Medi Woburn Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

308. Medi Wrentham Patch Online Only Market: Boston-Manchester, MA (9)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

309. Medi Acworth Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

310. Medi Brookhaven Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

311. Medi Buckhead Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

312. Medi Dallas Hiram Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

313. Medi Decatur Avondale Estates Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

314. Medi Douglasville Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

315. Medi Duluth Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

316. Medi Dunwoody Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

317. Medi East Atlanta Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

318. Medi East Cobb Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

319. Medi Holly Springs-Hickory Flat Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

320. Medi Kennesaw Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

321. Medi Lilburn-Mountain Park Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

322. Medi Marietta Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

323. Medi Midtown Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

324. Medi Norcross Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

325. Medi North Druid Hills-Briarcliff Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

326. Medi Northeast Cobb Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

327. Medi Peachtree Corners-Berkeley Lake Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

328. Medi Smyrna-Vinings Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

329. Medi Snellville Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

330. Medi South Cobb Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

331. Medi Stone Mountain-Redan Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

332. Medi Suwanee Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

333. Medi Virginia Highland-Druid Hills Patch Online Only Market: Atlanta, GA (10)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

334. Medi Carrollwood Patch Online Only Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

335. Medi Seminole Heights Patch Online Only Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

336. Medi Westchase Patch Online Only Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

337. Medi Birmingham Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

338. Medi Brighton Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

339. Medi Clawson Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

340. Medi Dearborn Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

341. Medi Dexter Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

342. Medi Farmington Hills Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

343. Medi Ferndale Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

344. Medi Grosse Pointe Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

345. Medi Hartland Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

346. Medi Huntington Woods-Berkley Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

347. Medi New Baltimore-Chesterfield Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

348. Medi Northville Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

349. Medi Oakland Township Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

350. Medi Rochester-Rochester Hills Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

351. Medi Royal Oak Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

352. Medi Shelby-Utica Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

353. Medi White Lake Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

354. Medi Wyandotte Patch Online Only Market: Detroit, MI (13)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

355. Medi Lakewood Patch Online Only Market: Seattle-Tacoma, WA (14)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

356. Medi Mercer Island Patch Online Only Market: Seattle-Tacoma, WA (14)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

357. Medi Woodinville Patch Online Only Market: Seattle-Tacoma, WA (14)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

358. Medi Apple Valley Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

359. Medi Eagan Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

360. Medi Edina Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

361. Medi Fridley Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

362. Medi Golden Valley Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

363. Medi Hopkins Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

364. Medi Inver Grove Heights Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

365. Medi Lakeville Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

366. Medi Mendota Heights Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

367. Medi Minnetonka Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

368. Medi Northfield Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

369. Medi Oakdale Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

370. Medi Richfield Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

371. Medi Roseville Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

372. Medi Southwest Minneapolis Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

373. Medi Woodbury Patch Online Only Market: Minneapolis-St. Paul, MN (15)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

374. Medi Beachwood Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

375. Medi Cleveland Heights Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

376. Medi Cuyahoga Falls Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

377. Medi Fairlawn Bath Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

378. Medi Solon Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

379. Medi Stow Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

380. Medi Westlake Patch Online Only Market: Cleveland-Akron-Canton, OH (19)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

381. Medi Rosemont Patch Online Only Market: Sacramento-Stockton-Modesto, CA (20)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

382. Medi Patch.com- Affton/Shrewsbury Online Only Market: St. Louis, MO (21)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

383. Medi St. Charles Patch Online Only Market: St. Louis, MO (21)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

384. Medi Chartiers Valley Patch Online Only Market: Pittsburgh, PA (23)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

385. Medi Aberdeen Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

386. Medi Arbutus Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

387. Medi Broadneck Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

388. Medi Catonsville Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

389. Medi Columbia Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

390. Medi Eldersburg Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

391. Medi Elkridge Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

392. Medi Ellicott City Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

393. Medi Essex Middle River Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

394. Medi Glen Burnie Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

395. Medi Havre de Grace Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

396. Medi Lutherville-Timonium Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

397. Medi North Baltimore Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

398. Medi Owings Mills Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

399. Medi Parkville-Overlea Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

400. Medi Pikesville Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

401. Medi Severna Park Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

402. Medi Westminster Patch Online Only Market: Baltimore, MD (26)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

403. Medi Carlsbad Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

404. Medi Coronado Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

405. Medi Encinitas Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

406. Medi Imperial Beach Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

407. Medi La Jolla Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

408. Medi La Mesa Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

409. Medi La Jolla Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

410. Medi La Mesa Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

411. Medi Lemon Grove Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

412. Medi Ramona Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

413. Medi Santee Patch Online Only Market: San Diego, CA (28)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

414. Medi Avon Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

415. Medi Bethel Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

416. Medi Bethwood Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

417. Medi Branford Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

418. Medi Brookfield Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

419. Medi Cheshire Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

420. Medi Clinton Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

421. Medi Danbury Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

422. Medi Darien Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

423. Medi East Hampton Portland Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

424. Medi East Haven Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

425. Medi Ellington Somers Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

426. Medi Fairfield Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

427. Medi Farmington Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

428. Medi Groton Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

429. Medi Hamden Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

430. Medi Killingworth Durham Middlefield Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

431. Medi Ledyard Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

432. Medi Manchester Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

433. Medi Mansfield-Storrs Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

434. Medi Meriden Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

435. Medi Milford Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

436. Medi Monroe Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

437. Medi Naugatuck Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

438. Medi New Canaan Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

439. Medi New London Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

440. Medi Newtown Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

441. Medi North Branford Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

442. Medi North Haven Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

443. Medi Norwalk Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

444. Medi Orange Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

445. Medi Shelton Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

446. Medi Simsbury Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

447. Medi Southbury Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

448. Medi Southeast-Brewster Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

449. Medi Southington Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

450. Medi Stonington-Mystic Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

451. Medi The Granbys Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

452. Medi Tolland Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

453. Medi Trumbull Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

454. Medi Waterford Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

455. Medi West Hartford Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

456. Medi Weston-Redding-Easton Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

457. Medi Westport Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

458. Medi Wilton Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

459. Medi Windsor Locks-East Windsor Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

460. Medi Windsor Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

461. Medi Woodbury-Middlebury Patch Online Only Market: Hartford-New Haven, CT (30)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

462. Medi Brookfield WI Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

463. Medi Caledonia Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

464. Medi Greendale Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

465. Medi Greenfield Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

466. Medi Menomonee Falls Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

467. Medi Shorewood Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

468. Medi Sussex Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

469. Medi Waukesha Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

470. Medi Whitefish Bay Patch Online Only Market: Milwaukee, WI (35)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

471. Medi Arlington VA Patch Online Only Market: Virginia (43)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

472. Medi Attleboro Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

473. Medi Barnstable-Hyannis Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

474. Medi Bristol-Warren Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

475. Medi East Providence Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

476. Medi Falmouth Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

477. Medi Middletown Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

478. Medi Narragansett Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

479. Medi Newport Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

480. Medi North Kingstown Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
 Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
 Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
 Average Stay: 90.46
 Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
 Attention: 0.0132

481. Medi Norton Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940

Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Attention: 0.0132

482. Medi Plymouth Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

483. Medi Portsmouth Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

484. Medi Woonsocket Patch Online Only Market: Providence, RI - New Bedford, MA (52)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

485. Medi South Whitehall Patch Online Only Market: Wilkes Barre-Scranton, PA (56)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

486. Medi Fenton Patch Online Only Market: Flint-Saginaw-Bay City, MI (72)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

487. Medi Merrimack Patch Newspaper Market: New Hampshire (77)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

488. Medi Cascade Patch Online Only Market: Chattanooga, TN (89)

Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

489. Medi Oconee Patch Online Only Market: Macon, GA (121)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM ET

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

490. Medi Campbell Patch Online Only Market: La Crosse-Eau Claire, WI (129)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

View

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

491. Medi Hudson WI Patch Online Only Market: La Crosse-Eau Claire, WI (129)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM CT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life

isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

492. Medi Banning-Beaumont Patch Online Only Market: Palm Springs, CA (146)
Type Why A Pet Tiger Is Never, Ever, Ever A Good Idea

Jan 11 2017 03:50PM PT

It's not just the humans who suffer, either as the HSUS notes, at least 100 big cats have been killed following attacks and escapes. Photo Credit: Nigel Swales via Flickr In addition to the obvious health and safety risks involved, a big cat's captive life isn't particularly pleasant for the animal or its owner. The people at BIG CAT RESCUE an animal sanctuary in Tampa, Florida, made a video highlighting the many reasons you don't want a real-life Tony the Tiger as the supersize family pet. Not only is doing so dangerous (see above) and expensive (sanctuaries spend an average of $10,000 a year on medical bills for each tiger), but it's also immoral when tigers roam hundreds of miles in the wild, living in a cage just doesn't cut it. Oh, and when you consider that tigers spray urine on anything and anyone to mark their territory, the idea of keeping one at home is also pretty gross.

Unique Visitors: 4,903,351
Calc Publicity Value: $5,820
Rank: 2,817

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 90.46
Page Views: 39,310,374

Estimated Ad Value: $1,940
Attention: 0.0132

View

493. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global Type 2017 Big Cat Calenda

Jan 11 2017 08:41PM UTC

2017 Big Cat Calendar - Back in StockDon't Miss Out - Get yours today at BIG-CAT-RESCUE.MY. glossy color calendar features the big cats who call BIG CAT RESCUE home. Each month you will enjoy a fabulous big cat image to go wild over! Only a limited number will be printed, so to ensure you receive your 2017 BIG CAT RESCUE calendar order it today! The calendar is approximately 8.5" x 11" when closed, 17" x 11" when fully open.

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

View

494. Medi Juneau County Star-Times Newspaper Market: La Crosse-Eau Claire, WI (129)
Type Rock Springs Library supports student benefactor (copy)

Jan 7 2017 01:41AM CT

The lab was busy testing for malaria and typhoid and Hartzell said she accompanied students during trips for diagnoses and treatment. She said she also had the chance to go on safari and visit a rainforest. Both were breathtakingly beautiful and she took countless photos. During an interview with the Times-Press, Hartzell said she found it amusing that she has spent more time around lions in Wisconsin than in Kenya. Her family lives near Wisconsin BIG CAT RESCUE in Rock Springs so she's seen more felines at home than overseas. Now that she's back home she plans to finish her four-year degree and maybe do some Peace Corps volunteering.

Unique Visitors: 76,545

CPM: $11.38

Estimated Ad Value: $312

View

Calc Publicity Value: $936
Rank: 111,470

Average Stay: 117.98
Page Views: 967,032

Attention: 0.0002

495. Medi Juneau County Star-Times Newspaper Market: La Crosse-Eau Claire, WI (129)
Type Rock Springs Library supports student benefactor

Jan 6 2017 08:11PM CT

The lab was busy testing for malaria and typhoid and Hartzell said she accompanied students during trips for diagnoses and treatment. She said she also had the chance to go on safari and visit a rainforest. Both were breathtakingly beautiful and she took countless photos. During an interview with the Times-Press, Hartzell said she found it amusing that she has spent more time around lions in Wisconsin than in Kenya. Her family lives near Wisconsin BIG CAT RESCUE in Rock Springs so she's seen more felines at home than overseas. Now that she's back home she plans to finish her four-year degree and maybe do some Peace Corps volunteering.

View

Unique Visitors: 76,545
Calc Publicity Value: $936
Rank: 111,470

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 117.98
Page Views: 967,032

Estimated Ad Value: $312
Attention: 0.0002

496. Medi Yahoo! Online Only Market: Global Type Ex Circus Tiger Starts New Life At Florida Sanctuary: WILDEST ANIMAL RESCUES

Jan 6 2017 05:12AM UTC

Together with Peruvian wildlife officials, ADI seized Hoover from the circus - he later became the sole survivor of up to 12 tigers who were kept by Circo Africano - and took the emaciated, parasite infested tiger to their temporary holding facility. Finally, in April 2016 BCR received the green light from United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS), in time for Hoover to arrive at his new one-acre enclosure on his twelfth birthday. Videographer / director: BIG CAT RESCUE Producer: Hannah Steven

View

Unique Visitors: 347,247,963
Calc Publicity Value: $167,724
Rank: 5

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 365.38
Page Views: 31,935,134,591

Estimated Ad Value: $55,908
Attention: 3.2896

497. Medi [Bay News 9 \(Spanish\) \[CABLE\]](#) Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type Rescue in Tampa live streams tiger procedure

Jan 4 2017 05:47AM ET

Screenshot of Charaka's medical procedure, courtesy of BIG CAT RESCUE'S Facebook Live video. TAMPA- BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa began live streaming one of their tiger's medical procedures late Tuesday afternoon. Charaka the tiger undergoing diagnostic work BIG CAT RESCUE says the tiger has been vomiting recently. Their live stream of the procedure quickly went viral. The Facebook Live video quickly went viral- gaining thousands of viewers and commenters within the first several minutes. On their Facebook page, the rescue announced the cat, Charaka, has been vomiting recently. The rescue's on-site veterinarians say they sedated him for diagnostics to rule out anything serious. They're hoping Charaka's discomfort is due to a 'big hair ball,' but plan on doing Xrays, Ultrasound and blood work just in case. Charaka reportedly joined the BIG CAT RESCUE in December 2016. The average tiger lives between 20 - 25 years in the wild. LATEST NEWS: TAMPA AREA

View

Unique Visitors: 402,540
Calc Publicity Value: $2,838
Rank: 16,562

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 163.50
Page Views: 8,946,581

Estimated Ad Value: $946
Attention: 0.0013

498. Medi [Bay News 9 \(Spanish\) \[CABLE\]](#) Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type Big Cat Rescue in Tampa live streams tiger procedure

Jan 4 2017 01:23AM ET

BIG CAT RESCUE in Tampa began live streaming one of their tiger's medical procedures late Tuesday af

View

Unique Visitors: 402,540
Calc Publicity Value: $2,838
Rank: 16,562

CPM: $11.38
Average Stay: 163.50
Page Views: 8,946,581

Estimated Ad Value: $946
Attention: 0.0013

499. Medi BAYN-CABLE Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type BAY NEWS 9 AT 9 AM

Jan 4 2017 09:00AM ET

[9:36:34 AM] Yes that's a tiger and a mighty big one at that, and this one had a pretty big problem! This 16-year-old tiger is named "char-aka. He lives at the "BIG CAT RESCUE" in Tampa and he was in need of a rescue, because this 350-pound kitty had a 4 pound hair-ball in his stomach! Here's a better look! You see that mound? Yup, that's hair! This morning, charaka is recovering from surgery and you can keep up with his recovery, if you'd like! So, far thousands of viewers have tuned in to watch the BIG CAT RESCUE'S live stream! And we have a link for you on our website, bay news 9 dot com! Coming up!

View

Nielsen Audience: 29,131
Calc Publicity Value: $1,412

Ad Value: $353

Calc Ad Value: $471

500. Medi BAYN-CABLE Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type BAY NEWS 9 AT 11 PM

Jan 3 2017 11:00PM ET

[11:18:02 PM] How do you treat a tiger with tummy troubles? Very carefully! A 15-year-old tiger named charaka at the BIG CAT RESCUE has been vomiting for a while after undergoing several tests including x-rays and blood work doctors are hoping that it is just a giant hairball causing problems. He weighs almost 350 pounds - so it's been tough for vets to get a clear sonogram. They are now working to remove let's check out destination space.

View

Nielsen Audience: 19,591
Calc Publicity Value: $1,730

Ad Value: $353

Calc Ad Value: $577

501. Medi BAYN-CABLE Television Market: Tampa-St. Petersburg-Sarasota, FL (11)
Type BAY NEWS 9 AT 10 PM

Jan 3 2017 10:00PM ET

[10:18:58 PM] How do you treat a tiger with tummy troubles? Very carefully! A 15-year-old tiger named charaka at the BIG CAT RESCUE has been vomiting for a while after undergoing several tests including x-rays and blood work doctors are hoping that it is just a giant hairball causing problems. He weighs almost 350 pounds - so it's been tough for vets to get a clear sonogram. They are now working to remove "big AI!

View

Nielsen Audience: 18,540
Calc Publicity Value: $1,306

Ad Value: $353

Calc Ad Value: $435

502. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global Type When is a black pant

Jan 3 2017 06:44PM UTC

When is a black panther not a black panther? When it is a black leopard. BIG CAT RESCUE, Tampa, Florida

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

503. Medi KICD-AM Radio Market: Sioux City, IA (149)
Type 8am

Jan 2 2017 08:00AM CT

[8:26:08 AM] Words from recovery step in to help with what's believed to be the biggest BIG CAT RESCUE in us history with. Exciting morning for Canton think addressing the guys right here I think Harrison animal sanctuary Colorado arrived the requisition is still. Cast from captivity from someone backyard bridge arrested tigers milligrams were doing well in Colorado. The owners were breeding leaving them exposed to cold Colorado temperatures are glad to be out of the Florida should really recast. Conflict in the wild simply because they've never been an old cassidy rescue happening captivity to whole lives and cities casting. Have the necessary skills that they would need to survive in the wild east catholic and I get the rest of. Their lives and everything I sang cherry that a dying have to breed they don't have to worry about when the next meal. Is coming from and take account of the rest of our lives and prevent shape and needed medical care if you. Check out the work of BIG CAT RESCUE website egg cat rescue. When I documented the new year's ghost and was kind of mass there is no background will be picked up as a. Stray and she had issues where Sean wants her home she hid for days eventually she came out and then she.

Listen

Nielsen Radio Audience: 900
Calc Publicity Value: $114

Ad Value: $13

Calc Ad Value: $38

504. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type Thanks to Cole and M

Jan 2 2017 07:41PM UTC

Thanks to Cole and Marmalade for donating $500 from their 2017 Calendar sales to help care for the residents at BIG CAT RESCUE #LittleCatsHelpingBigCatsPaws Up if YOU Follow Cole & Marmalade, too.

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

505. Medi Pinterest Pinterest Market: Global
Type A white Serval cat,

Jan 1 2017 12:38AM UTC

A white Serval cat, quite rare. Re-pin by StoneArtUSA.com ~ affordable custom pet memorials for everyone: Big Cats, Animals, BIG CAT RESCUE, African Wild, Bigcats, White Serval, Wild Cats, Feline

View

Unique Visitors: 168,530,672
Calc Publicity Value: $90,453
Rank: 40

CPM: $20.26
Average Stay: 371.34
Page Views: 5,281,680,319

Estimated Ad Value: $30,151
Attention: 0.6963

Report Generated: 24 Feb 2017 16:33:47
UTC
Story Count: 505
Audience: 4,128,155,954
Nielsen Audience: 389,905
Nielsen Radio Audience: 900
Unique Visitors: 4,127,765,149
Ad Value: $7,147
Calc Ad Value: $1,241,911
Calc Publicity Value: $3,725,732
Average Stay: 49248.05
Attention: 15.6427
Rank: 31,708,911
Page Views: 97,683,894,452

Any reproduction, sale or distribution is prohibited.

Portions © 2016 Nielsen Media Research, Inc.

Applicable ratings data contained herein are the copyrighted property of Nielsen Media Research, Inc.

All Rights Reserved.

Portions © 2016 Compete, Inc.

Applicable ratings data contained herein are for use pursuant to a license from Compete, Inc.

All Rights Reserved.

Portions © 2016 SimilarWeb LTD

Applicable ratings data contained herein are for use pursuant to a license from SimilarWeb LTD

All Rights Reserved.

--

Susan Bass

Director of Public Relations

Big Cat Rescue

Susan.Bass@BigCatRescue.org

813.431.2720